

SOLDIER OF SKY AND BEAUTY WED

Capt. Campbell, Real War Hero, and Miss Greiner, of London, Married Here.

Another chapter was added in the adventurous life of Capt. George Frederick Campbell, the "Soldier of the Sky," and hero of eighteen successful engagements with Hun airplanes, when he was married to Miss Gertrude Wilkins Greiner, of London, England, Friday at 9:45 a.m. The ceremony was performed in the study of Dr. E. A. Elmore, of the Second Presbyterian church.

The bride, who arrived from London but a few hours preceding the marriage, is a woman of the most beautiful type, her shyness when first seen by a News reporter serving to accentuate it. She is of slightly more than average height, fair-complexioned and light-haired, and has the perfect beauty and health of youth.

The News reporter arrived unannounced and was greeted cordially by both Capt. Campbell and his bride, but when he told of his mission both refused to give any information. However, after persistent questioning they finally consented to tell the story of their romantic courtship and marriage.

Their first meeting was in Paris, five years ago, before the outbreak of the great world war, and as the story was told, it was a case of love at first sight between the dashing young Englishman and the wealthy and cultured girl.

However, through force of circumstances, the lovers were not thrown together again for a long time, the serious business of war occupying Capt. Campbell's attention.

He joined the royal flying corps, but a few days later returned to England to see Miss Greiner. Their last meeting was in America, several months ago, when the famous aviator was acting as an instructor in an airplane training camp. She returned to England, but her absence could not be borne and resulted in the romantic marriage of today.

When Capt. Campbell was asked if he considered his latest adventure as hazardous as the ones he is accustomed to, he merely blushed and smiled.

However, it is hardly thought that anything but perfect harmony can result from the marriage of the heroic aviator with the sweetheart who traveled over 2,000 miles, defying the terror of the death-dealing U-boats to reach her lover's side. Her trip over the broad expanse of the Atlantic was fraught with peril during every hour. At times submarines were sighted, but were speedily left behind, helped, perhaps, by the fast-beating heart of the beautiful girl who stayed on the deck of the ship and gazed forward towards the land where lay her happiness. And the shy, entrancing smile which she proudly exhibited her marriage license to The News reporter Friday proved that her joy has not one whit abated.

REPRODUCTION OF GARDEN OF EDEN SCENE

Startling Picture Meets Wife's Eyes When She Breaks Into Hubby's Apartments.

New York, June 14.—"There was such a scene as might have been in the garden of Eden, only there were no trees," was the way Miss Irene Bordoni, French singer and dancer, described what she found when, with detectives, she broke into her husband's apartments by smashing down a door. Two bathrobes reposed over a chair and Miss Bordoni's husband, Edgar Becman, an actor, and a French comediennes, whose identity was not disclosed, covered in a corner of the room, scantily clad.

RESUMES DRIVE ON SHOE MACHINERY COMPANY

Washington, June 14.—The government today resumed its drive on the United Shoe Machinery company, which recently secured a favorable decision in the United States supreme court. Declaring that the opinion "indicated certain misapprehensions as to the position taken by the government," the department of justice appealed to the supreme court for a re-hearing. It unaltered, the petition said, the opinion offers an avenue of escape from the Sherman antitrust law and surrounds with doubt the question as to the limit of the patent grant.

POPE EXCLUDED FROM PEACE CONFERENCE

English Declare No Discourtesy Was Intended Pope in Position of Neutral Power.

London, June 13.—Lord Stanmore, replying to a question in the house of lords today, said that there evidently was some idea that the government had been wanting in respect and courtesy in the matter of the pope's note on peace.

A few days later President Wilson sent a detailed answer to the note. The British government, Lord Stanmore said, associated themselves with this answer and it was decided that there was nothing they could usefully add to it. This was made public at the time.

Regarding the clause in the secret treaty with France, Russia and Italy excluding the pope from being represented at the peace conference, Lord Stanmore declared that that was a perfectly reasonable course to take. The pope was in the same position as the sovereign of a neutral nation, whose representative would in no case be admitted to the peace conference without the general consent of all the belligerents.

KAISER GOES UNDER FIRE ON FRENCH BATTLEFIELD

Bewails "Trials Imposed on Us Germans"—Now "Swinging to Victory."

Amsterdam, June 14.—Emperor William went into regions under fire during the recent fighting on the French front, according to Karl Rosner, the emperor's favorite correspondent, who accompanies him on his tours.

The correspondent's article, dated May 25 on the battlefield of the Aisne, is printed in the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger. On his return to the battle front, continues the article, the emperor beckoned the men in field gray near him to his car and gave them a graphic description of the German successes.

"Tell it to your comrades," said the emperor. "Tell them that they, too, may rejoice. Tell them also that I have told you—I in the midst of the fighting."

"What eyes they will make in Paris," your majesty," said one of his listeners, carried away by the emperor's description, Rosner adds.

"Yes," replied the emperor; "you would like to see those eyes." A further suggestion from the same listener that the Germans would get where they could see "those eyes" elicited no reply.

AMERICANS CHEW UP DIVISION OF HUNS

The 197th, 237th and 10th Divisions So Badly Mauled Had to Be Reinforced.

London, June 14.—One and a half German divisions were "chewed up" by the Americans in the past ten days, a staff officer estimated today, while the Americans held up five enemy divisions.

The 197th, the 237th and the Tenth divisions were so badly mauled by the Americans that they had to be reinforced from the Twenty-eighth and Fifth guard divisions.

This brought the total of enemy divisions opposing a single American division up to five.

The Twenty-eighth and Fifth guard divisions were slated for transfer to the Montdidier region to participate in the offensive against the French, but the hammering administered by the Americans against the other three made it necessary to put them in on the Marne front under Gen. Von Winkler.

The Twenty-eighth is composed of men from Baden who stormed Chemin des Dames on May 27 while the Kaiser looked on from a hilltop.

SKY BLUE CLOTH CHEVRON FOR MEN SERVING ABROAD

Washington, June 14.—A special instruction to designate army service abroad of less than six months has been adopted by the War Department. DRAFT RULES WILL ADMIT MORE MEN

A Large Number of Physically Disqualified Will Be Placed in First Class.

Chicago, June 14.—The American Medical association closed its sixty-ninth annual convention here today with numerous sectional meetings.

At a conference between Lieut.-Col. Enoch Smith, assistant to Provost Marshal-General Crowder and Maj. Hubert Work, medical adviser to the provost marshal and the chief military medical officers from forty-nine states, a number of changes in draft regulations were suggested with a view of utilizing to the fullest possible extent the country's manpower.

Closer co-operation between the local draft board examiners and the army camp surgeons was urged to reduce the number of eligibles rejected for physical reasons and plans considered for using a larger percentage of rejected men in active service.

REGIMENT OF ENGINEERS WILL ORGANIZE AT PARK

Col. Spencer Cosby Arrives to Take Command. Other Officers Expected Soon—Predictions for Massing of Men in This Department Here.

Within the next few weeks a complete engineer regiment will be formed at Chickamauga park. It is further predicted that before the summer is over a large number of troops, possibly two or three regiments will arrive. The announcement that the new organization is forming came from Col. Spencer Cosby, who arrived at Fort Oglethorpe Friday from Corpus Christi, Tex., and will be placed in command of the new troops.

With Col. Cosby are Capt. Clark Kittrell and Capt. K. M. Moore. Next week twenty or thirty more officers will arrive to take command of the companies to be formed. Headquarters have been established in the old Sixth division office building.

No information has been received yet regarding where the troops will be taken from, except that eight men will arrive from the state of Washington in the next few days, who are expected to be followed by a steady stream of others. The eight are raw draft recruits, but it is not known whether the others will be drafted men or not. Most of them will be new men, however, with a sprinkling of veterans for the purpose of stiffening them. Col. Cosby is expected to receive more details from Washington at any time.

Although not necessarily having completed a technical course of engineering, the men who will constitute the personnel of the new forces will be specialists in their line. Of course, the officers will all be graduates of engineering schools and have already undergone a thorough course of military training, but the men will consist chiefly of electricians, draftsmen, surveyors, etc.

The coming of the new troops is thought by some to indicate the removal of the Fifty-first or Fifty-second infantry, or possibly both, their quarters to be occupied by the engineers. Col. Cosby was able to give out no information on the subject Friday, however.

BLAME UNITED STATES German Press Says of Costa Rica's War Declaration

Amsterdam, June 14.—The United States is blamed for Costa Rica's declaration of war against Germany by the Koelnische Volks Zeitung, which says:

"President Wilson will find that at the final settlement the votes will not be counted but weighed and Costa Rica will have to account to us for all material damages, even when full allowance is made for its dependence on the United States."

"With some more backbone Costa Rica could have resisted America's brutal pressure, as San Salvador has done up to this time, although San Salvador is only one-third of Costa Rica's size."

The Costa Rican congress declared war on Germany on May 25, 1918. The present Costa Rican government, headed by President Tinoco, has never been given official recognition by the American government, despite attempts to gain such recognition.

MOVIE OPERATORS IN "WORK OR FIGHT" CLASS

Picture Houses Will Face Serious Situation—Draft Board Members in Conference.

Chairmen of the local boards held a convention Thursday afternoon on the "work or fight" draft ruling and decided that no hard and fast rules could be laid down, but that each case would have to be decided on its merits.

Among other occupations commercial travelers were decided to be nonessential under the new ruling; also moving picture operators.

This inclusion of "movie" operators will prove cataclysmic to the motion picture business. This whole business is a young business and is owned and run mainly by young men. Operators are usually in their twenties and it requires from one to two years to train a new machine man. Government examinations for movie operators have become so strict that it takes practically an electrical expert to stand the test.

More than this, the "movie" operators form one of the most thoroughly unionized occupations in Chattanooga, and in America. The new "work or fight" rule will virtually wipe out the moving picture machine operators' union. This bids fair to close down the flickering drama for Chattanooga.

Already the demand for operatives is greater than the supply. Four movie men in this city have already joined the navy and cinematoscope owners have been having to import operators from other towns to take their places.

Before this ruling of the chairman of the local boards, the "movie" owners in this city had hope that their business came under the theatrical exclusion clause, but apparently the Chattanooga chairman does not see it that way. On the contrary, Georgia chairman exclude the "movie" people. In fact, the "work or fight" rule shows symptoms of giving play to an endless divergence of opinion as to whom it applies.

GUILTY IMPERSONATION; PROTEST OTHER CHARGE

Cincinnati, June 14.—While admitting that he impersonated a United States army officer Wm. J. von Struckard, who claims to be a son of a German general and a relative of Admiral Von Tirpitz, insisted while in jail today that he desired to join the American army and fight against Germany.

Von Struckard pleaded guilty to impersonating an officer, but protested against the charge that he had violated the espionage act.

He was sent to jail in default of $20,000 bail to await trial, which was set for June 22.
